

VERDICT IN THE HAVEMEYER INQUEST.

THAT DEATH WAS NOT THE RESULT OF AN ACCIDENT.

The minutes taken at the inquest into the death of Charles F. Havemeyer, son of the late Theodore A. Havemeyer, were made public for the first time yesterday. Charles F. Havemeyer died at his home, in Roslyn, Long Island, from a pistol-shot wound, and, further than to say that the jury had found that Mr. Havemeyer's death was the result of an accident, Coroner Edward Skinner, of Minnesota, who made the investigation, refused to talk about the case. His minutes, filed yesterday, had not yet been made public in connection with the law to be put on record in the inquest, and then he came back until the last minute. He held the inquest on May 10, just after midnight, and only a few hours after Charles F. Havermeier had expired.

The jurors named were E. D. Morgan, foreman for the State; J. O. Bird, J. B. Easton, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., O. N. Bird, C. C. Eustis. All are wealthy and friends of the dead man. Only three witnesses were examined at the inquest. Winthrop Rutherford and Henry Churchill testified to having been informed by Mrs. Havermeier that her husband had been shot. They then told of finding him dead in a reclining-chair. Neither could swear whether it was a case of suicide or murder.

Dr. John Mann, of Jericho, who was called to attend to the body, testified that he found the bullet wound just above the right ear, and said Mr. Havermeier was dead when he reached the house. He said he did not know whether it was suicide or murder.

"Charles F. Havermeier came to his death from the effects of a pistol-shot wound," said Dr. Mann. "I do not know it was not an accident."

The testimony given by each of the witnesses was in the most formal. It consisted of brief and bare statements of facts and an apparent avoidance of details.

The jury was not considered heedful to go into the case deeply, and the inquest was devoted to show statements of facts, and an apparent avoidance of detail. There being no suspicion of foul play, it was not considered needful to go into the case deeply, and the inquest was devoted to showing the cause of death.
